

PUBLIC DAILY LEDGER

FIFTH YEAR.

MAYSVILLE, KY., THURSDAY, MARCH 12, 1896.

ONE CENT.

Purely Business!

The columns of a newspaper represent a cash value. No publisher can afford to give advertising "entirely free" any more than a merchant can take over his customer for the sake of a few goods or shoes. A newspaper is a legitimate business concern. Its columns are its stock in trade, and advertisements should be paid for, no matter in what part of the paper they appear.

The Unpaid Calls

Upon this Ledger for free notices have become so burdensome that we are forced to publish the following terms:

For Notices of Suppers, occasions, fairs, or other public entertainments where a fee is charged, and for obituary notices, read after the usual rate. This notice will be the usual rule. This, however.

Does Not Include

notices of Lodge meetings or Church services, which must not exceed ten lines.

Avoidance of Disputes.

Misunderstandings are unpleasant. The rate for business notices in this Ledger is 10 cents a line for the first insertion and 5 cents a line for subsequent insertions. A customer orders a free local insertion in the paper. "I'll tell you when to take it out," he says to the bookkeeper. But he forgets all about it. The notice runs for two months—52 times—the bill is $13.25. When he finds it out there is a "kick" and a controversy. Probably by an icy feeling. Now, to obviate the trouble, our "free local" notices will be accepted hereafter. Let's have a definite agreement at the outset and the termination will be pleasant all around.

For matter for publication must be handed in before 9 o'clock in the morning of each day.

If you have friends visiting you, or if you are going away on a trip, please drop a note to this effect:

Miss Mattie Rudy is visiting relatives at Covington.

Mrs. Cherrington and daughter of Covington are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Daugherty.

Mr. George L. Cox and family left Thursday morning for a month's stay at Thomassville, Ga.

Mrs. James Cahill, wife of Representative Cahill, and daughter Miss Nellie are visiting at Frankfort.

W. C. Wright of Indianapolis came last night to see his brother J. H. Wright, who is ill at his home on Fifth street.

Judge E. J. Fox of Dover was a visitor to his sister, Mrs. H. C. Curran, yesterday. The genial Judge has many friends in our city who gave him a cordial welcome and many words of sympathy for his attack of rheumatism, which has greatly impaired his power of locomotion. He left at noon for Fayette to visit relatives and friends.

Very Personal.—Posture on drop letters, whether sealed or not, is 2 cents. Many persons send their notices through the Postoffice with only 1 cent stamp. These are "bad for postage." Hereafter they must contain a 2 cent stamp.

Charles Randolph, colored, was disorderly $3 worth.

Mrs. Eliza Richeson fell and was injured at her home a few days ago.

A twelve-months-old child of Thomas Ryan died yesterday morning and was buried this morning.

"Bramel" is the name of a Postoffice just established in Mason county, and Charles Bramel is the Postmaster.

If you want a Corset, go to Browning's. They have all the best makes in the market, including J. B. R. & G. Ball's, Kabo, Warner's and P. D.'s.

Frank Gregston, drunk.

Was snoring away.

The effects of a lag.

Beneath the railroad veranda.

There being no snow.

And having no sleep.

He rode with Barney.

To jail on a day.

And after a snooze had mastered the booze Frank was brought out as limp as a dour, and then the big Judge sized up his "badger" and straightaway did say $2 you'll pay.

All last winter Mr. George A. Mills of Lebanon, Conn., was badly afflicted with rheumatism. At times it was so severe that he could not stand up straight, but was drawn over on one side. He tried different remedies without receiving relief," he says, "until about six months ago I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. After using it for three days my rheumatism was gone and has not returned since." For sale by J. James Wood, Drugist.

The first Bicycle race met in this state will be held in Cynthiana in June.

In the coming April election Ripley will vote whether or not to issue $40,000 worth of bonds to construct water works.

Rev. W. O. Cochran, Mrs. J. B. Newton and Dr. P. G. Smoot sent several large bundles of clothing to Mrs. John M. Scott, who distributed it among the poor.

Colonel Frank Coles of Ashland was in the city Wednesday. The Colonel is a candidate for District Delegate to the St. Louis Convention, and he was interviewing the local politicians on the prospects.

The social given by the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Central Presbyterian Church last night was a very enjoyable affair. Fruit and fine candy were served after the exercises of the evening, and the President and Social Committee deserve great credit for the originality of the social.

Hunter & Irvine have an advertisement elsewhere in The Ledger, to which attention is respectfully invited.

Taylor Brothers at Washington sell the best Tobacco Cotton at 2 cents per yard.

Services at the M. E. Church at 3 p. m. and 7 p. m. each day, conducted by the Pastor, Rev. E. L. Shepherd.

The advertising columns of The Ledger speak for themselves. They show that people who know how to advertise know also where to advertise.

Subscribers in Aberdeen may rely upon having The Ledger served to them regularly hereafter. They are invited to take advantage of our free book offer.

Simon S. Hartman of Tannetown, Va., has been subject to attacks of colic about once a year, and would have to call a doctor and then suffer for about twelve hours as much as some do when they die. He was taken recently just the same as at other times, and concluded to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It gave him relief in five minutes. That is more than anything else has ever done for me." For sale by J. James Wood, Drugist.

J. BALLENGER, Maysville, Ky.

The House Clerk did not call the name of Kaufman.

The vote stood Blackburn, 54; Carlisle, 10; Buckner, 1.

The chairman announced no quorum voting.

At 1:10 p. m. the session adjourned.

The doors were thrown open and the members fled out among the mob, all seemingly in good humor.

Not a Republican voted.

WEREN'T DROWNED.

Two Missing Aberdeen Boys Now Said to Be Safe.

Relatives of George Ennis and George Jones, the two Aberdeen boys, who were believed to have been drowned off the head of Manchester Island a few weeks ago, have received word from them that they are now employed on the towboat John Allen.

Who the victims are still remains a mystery.

They were certainly strangers, as nobody from this locality is reported missing.

A card on the outside of office door says: "Come to lunch. He back in ten minutes." And the man will be there on time. That is, for some days, weeks or even months, he will. Then he will be at home occasionally for a day. He'll tell you he had a headache—a turn of cholera morbus, or maybe he'll say he had a lump in his stomach and felt too miserable to move. The lump was probably two or three ten-minute lunches condensed.

The man who "boils" his lunches will find Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets the best friend he ever met.

There is no case of biliousness, constipation, indigestion, "heartburn" or any of the rest of the nightmare breeding brood that these little "Pellets" will not cure. They cure permanently. Send 21 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's "Common Sense Medical Advice," profusely illustrated.

HOODOOD.

The Grocery Robber Has the Police "Faded."

AT WORK LAST NIGHT.

Cummins & Redmond's Grocery Entered and Their Cash Register Smashed.

SIDE DOOR THIS TIME.

The house breaker was out again and at work last night.

And it seems to be some fellow who has completely hoodooed the police force.

Some time between 10 p. m. and early morning a thief entered the grocery store of Cummins & Redmond, corner Limestone and Third streets.

He gained an entrance to the building by breaking the glass in the door at the Limestone street entrance.

The first thing noticed this morning was the cash register on the floor looking as if a C and O. Flyer had struck it, and its contents were gone, as the proprietors had removed them to the safe before closing up last night.

The register is a fine machine, costing $150, and it is thought to be damaged beyond repair.

After getting left on the register, the amateur then turned his attention and talents toward the safe, but that was non-bearable, and he had to be content with the breaking off of a cold chisel at the top of the door.

Every one asks, "Where was the Policeman?"

The police cannot be everywhere at the same time.

Whoever it is doing this work evidently watches the Policeman, and when he passes the place where the thief expects to operate it is easy enough then for him to get in his work and get out before the time arrives for the Policeman to be back that way on his return rounds.

It will only be a matter of time until he is apprehended, however, as there never was a dog known to outrun his tail.

The books of the Limestone Building Association are now open for subscription to the Fourteenth Series. Take stock in a good 61 per cent investment. This is an easy way to buy a home and keep paying rent. Call on H. C. Sharp, James E. Threlkeld or any of the Directors.

Bloodhounds arrived from Williamsburg, O., last evening, and were immediately taken to Flemingsburg to aid in finding the guilty party. They were started on the trail at 9 o'clock this morning.

Fleming Lodge No. 350, I. O. O. F., has offered a reward of $50 for the arrest and conviction of the party or parties who shot him.

ROTOUS!

A Veritable Bear Garden at Frankfort.

KAUFMAN UNSEATED.

Then the Democrats Retaliate By Bouncing Two Republican Senators—A Magnificent Mass.

GOOD FOR DR. JAMES.

Shouts of "Stand to them, boys!" and cries of "Crowd them over the banisters if they attempt to enter!" were heard.

It was now 11:45.

In the mob were several men with their hands holding pistols in their pockets, standing at the door, daring the Republicans to attempt to bring the two unseated Senators through.

BLACKBURN WAS THERE.

Senator Blackburn was in the crowd, counselling coolness.

The crowd was mad when they learned that James had already slipped into the House and had done so while they were unseating him in the Senate.

The Chief of Police and many patrol men were present. Men and women rushed from the building when the yell told that the unseating had been done.

At 11:58 one man broke a chair and made a club.

At 12:05 Dunlap approached the door, but was waved back.

Speaker Blanford refused to recognize the Senate, hoping that Dunlap would come in, but at 12:11 Lieutenant-Governor Worthington took the gavel from Blanford almost by force and called the joint session to order.

The Republicans disputed the right of the Senate Clerk to call the roll.

The Chairman ruled that the Democratic Senate Clerk should call the Senate roll and the House Clerk the House roll.

The Senate Clerk did not call the names of James and Walton.

MINORITY REPORT ADOPTED.

The vote came first on the minority report, which proposes to seat Dunlap.

FRANKFORT, March 11th.

After some minor matters had been disposed of in the House, Mr. Howard got up on what he called a question of the highest privilege and indicated a special order, which was the Dunlap-Kaufman contested election case.

The Democrats, led by Carroll and Bickham, claimed that Dunlap's letter of withdrawal, which was read, took the matter beyond the power of the House.

Mr. Lyons of Newport contended that Dunlap had only asked leave to withdraw, and that it was in the power of the House to decide what disposition should be made of the request.

Speaker Blanford ruled that the contest case was still before the House and should be voted on, notwithstanding Dunlap's action.

BRADLEY!
The Commercial Gazette is to be congratulated on having secured a clever journalist as Mr. ELLIOTT KELLY of Lexington as its staff correspondent at Frankfort. Mr. KELLY is thoroughly acquainted at the State Capital, and it was his admirable work there during the late campaign in exposing the rottenness of the Democratic ring and Democratic methods that contributed in no small degree to the Republican success last fall.

The Ledger's Choice
for President.

The resolution passed unanimously by the State Central Committee Indorsing Governor BRADLEY for President was very natural and proper, says The Louisville Commercial.

Governor BRADLEY
entered the service of the Republican party when quite a young man, and for more than a quarter of a century has fought its battles. He has spared neither money nor labor, and time and again has led forth with valiant courage and ability. His recent magnificent canvass was a call to arms all over the state, and from every hearth there sprang in response gallant men, with whose brave assistance the victory was won.

From the time of the Auditorial debate, where he unharned his adversary, there was no doubt of the result. Such a canvass was a revelation in this state.
The man who has for the first time broken the ranks of Democracy in this rock-ridden Democratic state is entitled to a warm place in the heart of the Nation. From the boy warrior he has become the veteran soldier and leader, and has brought with him into the Republican camp the captured banners of a splendid enemy. The Democratic party of Kentucky was strong in leaders, ability and resources, and to overcome it furnished the highest evidence of undaunted leadership.

The question is not, can he carry Kentucky? This he has already done, and with him as the leader there can be no doubt of the result in November. In the last canvass he took a bold position as the financial question; he unhesitatingly declared that the gold dollar, being that best, should be the standard, and that every dollar of silver and paper should be placed upon an equality in value with it. He declared unflinching opposition to the "free and unlimited" silver craze, and while others have believed and dodged on this question, Governor BRADLEY's course has been marked by bold and independent frankness.

Equally positive was his course in favor of the Doctrine of Protection. He advocated a Tariff so regulated as to protect home laborers and producers from the pauper labor of the Old World, and a Tariff that is prohibitory in any sense, not a Tariff that would make possible an injustice to consumers, but a wisely and conservatively regulated Tariff, which would result in the protection of every class. He favored, too, the fullest reciprocity in commerce with other Nations so far as consistent with the protection of such industries as can be protected in this country.

His views on Americanism are of no uncertain kind. Strongly in favor of the Monroe Doctrine, sympathizing with struggling Republics the world over, devoted to the principles of American liberty, he is the friend of the common school system, and, as he aptly expressed it, he loves his country and its flag above every party.

Governor BRADLEY is a self-made man; plain, unassuming and kind to all; generous to a fault, and is indeed a Great Commoner. As a lawyer he stands in the first rank of the bar of Kentucky; as an orator and statesman he is worthy of a place with the great men of our past.

As Governor he has more than fulfilled the prediction of friends, and silenced the adverse criticism of enemies. His record in that high office promises to equal that of any man who has ever adorned it in this state.

Surely the time has come when the Mason and Dixon line should be effaced from the map; and surely it should no longer be a political crime to have been born South of it. For years both political parties have, in the selection of leaders, shunned the South. Should this longer continue? Kentucky, West Virginia and Maryland have been redeemed, and had an honest count in the heart of every Southern man. The people of the South are breaking away from traditions and looking to stern realities and seeking for better government. The nomination of BRADLEY would throw a flood of sunlight across every Southern home, and awaken new life and hope in the heart of every Southern man.

The Republican party is a National party. It has stood nobly for freedom and equal rights to all. It has fought the battles of the Union and preserved the Constitution. Shall it be longer manifested that its professions are at war with its performances?

The Republican party is a sound money party. The day of double dealing and doubtful platforms has passed.
The people demand plain, outspoken sentiments, and will not be trifled with longer. Such a platform may lose some of the Western silver mining states.
How are these losses to be recouped?
Only by holding the East and the sound-money states of the West and South in line. What man in the East is stronger than BRADLEY? What man will inspire more confidence and respect among the business men and friends of honest money?

And what man can obtain more solid support in the South? It is said that no Southern State has instructed its delegates for him. This is true; but up to this moment no effort has been made in that direction. He has not pressed himself, nor have his friends intruded his name on public notice. Other candidates have been in the field and at work for months. But it is plain to the dullest perception that no man can awaken such enthusiasm in the South as a native Southerner; not that the South is unimpaired of the ability, honor and party service of those of the North, but because the South has been for more than thirty years the mere gatherer of the crumbs that fell from the National table, hewers of wood and drawers of water, who, while they were not denied the privilege of laboring, and in some instances dying, in defense of their principles, were looked upon with coolness and distrust by their Northern neighbors.

Nominate BRADLEY and wipe out sectionalism. Give us a candidate whose views on public questions are so plain that "the wayfarer man, though a fool, need not err therein." Let the South be regenerated and redeemed, and the free silver heresy buried forever.
Let the slogan be, "Honest money, just Protection, patriotic Americanism, peace on earth and good will to men."

BOYLE'S FATE

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 12.—It is the general impression at midnight that if the Republicans attempt to

PANDEMONIUM.

Kaufman Ousted From His Seat
in the Kentucky House.

The Senate Retaliates by Unseating Senators Walton and James.

The Doorway Blocked by Armed Men, Who Duty the Senators to Enter—Worthington by Force Takes the Government—Dunlap Refuses to qualify.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 12.—The common belief here Wednesday was that the party of the ways might be reached in the long senatorial deadlock, and politicians were prepared to receive any sort of development without surprise. The crowd which wanted admission to the house galleries was enormous, and showed plainly the great interest felt on the outside, but to prevent a disorderly scene, such as was precipitated Saturday, the speaker in force the rule to admit only ladies to the galleries.

After disposing of some small matters, Mr. Howard, of Butler, got up on Thursday to ask a question of the high privilege and indicated a special order, which was the Dunlap-Kaufman contested election case.

The Democrats, led by Carroll and Bickham, claimed that Dunlap's letter of withdrawal, which was read, took the matter beyond the power of the house. Mr. Lyons, of Newport, contended that Dunlap had only asked leave to withdraw, and that it was in the power of the house to decide what disposition should be made of the request.

Speaker Stanford ruled that the contested case was still before the house and should be voted on, notwithstanding Dunlap's action.

The vote came first on the minority report, which proposes to seat Dunlap. The vote resulted in the adoption of the minority report and the unseating of Kaufman (dem.) by the vote of 48 to 46, the two populations being equal on the demand. The vote then came on the majority report, as announced by the minority report, and to prevent the carrying out of the un-seating of Kaufman, the Democrats rushed from the hall in a body, leaving for the purpose of breaking a quorum.

Consistent Democrats, who had been in the hall, and a crowd formed at the door of the house to prevent the entrance of either Walton or James.
The doors were thrown open, and cries of "Crowd them over the banis-ers if they attempt to enter!" were heard.

In the mob several men with their hands holding pistols in their pockets, standing at the door, and the Democrats to attempt to bring the two unseated senators through.

Senator Blackburn was in the crowd, counseling coolness. The crowd was mad when they learned that James had already slipped into the house and had done so without a crowd, and that he was in the house. The chief of police and many patrolmen were present. Men and women rushed from the building when the yell, that the meeting had been done. At 11:55 one man broke a chair and made a club.

Speaker Blanford, of the house, resolved to recognize the senate, hoping that during the would count the roll call.
Lieut. Gov. Worthington took the gavel from Blanford almost by force and called the joint session to order.

The Republicans disputed the right of the senate clerk to call the roll.
The chairman ruled that the democratic senate clerk should call the senate roll and the house clerk the house roll.
